We are pleased to invite you and your constituents to the OVCRD Colloquium 2012 "Paliwanagan sa UP Diliman" to be held on 16 January 2012 (Monday), 8AM-5PM, at the National Institute of Physics (NIP) Auditorium, National Science Complex, UP Diliman. The Colloquium is intended to showcase OVCRD-funded research and development projects, programs and initiatives; discuss available institutional support to UPD researchers and creative workers; acquaint UPD constituents about research and creative work initiatives of their colleagues in other UPD units; and highlight the complete R&D cycle from proposal writing, through intellectual property (IP) creation and invention, to IP dissemination and utilization.

To further highlight research and development efforts in UP Diliman, the OVCRD is organizing a parallel event to the Colloquium, which will be participated in by UPD units that produce academic journals, the UP Press and other publishers of UPD research and creative work outputs, and UPD's research partners. For this purpose, booths will be set up at the NIP premises.

We are expecting around 300 to 350 attendees to this event, which will include UPD faculty members, researchers, creative workers, and graduate students; UPD's research partners; representatives of professional associations; and selected members of the mass media.
